

Japanese Course for Foreign Exchange Students Syllabus

Class Name	Japanese III (A) [Conversation/Listening Comprehension]
Offered Semester	Fall Semester
Topic	Learning intermediate level Japanese conversation and listening comprehension.
Class Outline	Listening comprehension and conversation exercises will mainly be done through textbooks. For listening comprehension exercises, students will listen to the CD to practice understanding the information. This also aims to expand their vocabulary and expressions. For conversation exercises, constant speaking practice will be done to fully master basic conversation expressions and further learn intermediate level conversation expressions. Students are required to present role plays matching scenes in real life to practice communicating naturally in Japanese. Small conversation presentations by a given topic will also be done. Content review tests are also set for students to expand their understanding of the studied contents.
Objectives	This class aim students to master basic expressions for use in Japanese conversation. Constant speaking practice aim to help students to both expand their vocabulary and use newly and previously studied content to engage in conversation on everyday topics.
